

The Extant Landscape, Eromanga Basin

Richard Randall Art Studio, Mt Cootha Botanic Gardens
Friday 30 November - Sunday 2 December 2012

Adele Outteridge

Artist's statement

The Yowah rocks contain their own tiny landscapes in the most beautiful colours. I love to capture them with my camera and macro lens or with pastels, charcoal, chalk.....

The pastel paintings reveal some of the diversity of colour and texture of the rocks which in turn reflect the colours and texture of the landscape.

Artist' biography

Adele Outteridge gained her bachelor's degree in science from the University of Melbourne (Australia) in 1967. She worked as an Experimental Scientist at CSIRO for some years. She studied graphic design during the 1980s, and has attended workshops and courses in design, book arts, drawing, sculpture, printmaking, even taxidermy.

She travels widely lecturing and teaching workshops. She has participated in several artist-in-residence projects in schools, galleries, and one in the Ramingining Aboriginal Community in remote Northern Australia. In 2003 she was invited to teach at the prestigious Arrowmont School, Tennessee and at the Women's Studio Workshop, New York.

Her work in artists' books, printmaking, sculpture and drawing has been exhibited widely. It is held in private and public collections nationally and internationally including the State Library of Queensland, regional galleries, schools and university collections Her work has appeared in many publications including Keith Smith's Non-Adhesive Binding series.

She now lives in Brisbane and runs The Studio West End (established 1998) with Wim de Vos.
